Bolk shouldars, 78716; clear rib sides, localities; elear rib sides; elear rib; elea The monetary situation is still characterized by superabundant offerings of capital, both on the part of banks and individual capitalists. The demand continues very moderate, and the rate of interest remain at 21@3 per cent. for call loans? In one form or other, we find this languil repose of capital apparent in the financial reports of the press rent in the financial reports of the press everywhere. The existence of such a repose shows stagnation of business. If business is dull, it is not because money is not accessible, but money is in excess because there is more of it than trade can find occupation for. Exchange was in sufficiency only in spots; the rates are unchanged; { discount on eastern, } New Orleans; selling at par on all points. Gold was at 112; in New York in the morning, our brokers were pay-ing 111@1111, for round lots 1111 could be got. The Philadelphia North American expresses the opinion that the excess of capital spoken of above will bring better times. It says: "Among the elements tending to produce such a coult is the superabundance of capital. Bubbles have burst everywhere. Over-blown credit has collapsed, but the sources of actual wealth and capital have remained unimpaired, and now, while the havocand devastation wrought by the revulsion lies all befere us, we see clearly that actual capital is fully as abundant as ever; that the nation is really rich and strong, and that, putting saide every dollar of foreign capital. there is more domestic capital in the market than can find profitable invest-

THE COTTON MARKET yesterday was quiet; the askings of the last day or two, and increase in receipts, indisposed buyers to operate, and the demand, except for fine grades and long staples, was less urgent. This caused holders to be less exacting, and the market was casier. During the past twenty - four hours the weather manufacturers have been as fickle as old maids are said to be (we never saw one), and we have at last given up in despair. During the day, however, we had very much of the invigorating aunshine-just enough to counteract the sharp winds that blew from the north, and the sunny side of a bale of cotton was a luxury indulged in pretty generally. From above we have nothing worthy of note; the Ice holds on, with little prospect of an early relief, and steamboat interests are fearfully retarded. The lower streams are running down at a rapid rate, and soon no water for boats will be in order. Here the river declined seven inches, and we have only six feet above the dead-line. Business Yesterday

Business at the landing yesterday was just MEMPHIS : : : TENNESSEE, subscriptions. There are tens of thousands so-so, local packets doing very little in the the ice lets go above, and that event is not | Orders left at No. 177 Main street will looked for soon. It takes a right funny joke to awaken a smile on a river man's countenance now-a-days, and as there are but few "in port" who can furnish the joke, smiles, except of the liquid persuasion, are few and far be tween. Well, we all live in hopes, if we per-ish on the ragged edge, etc. The following constitutes the business yesterday:

ARRIVALS. THE CHARLES MO GAN, from New Or-leans, arrived yesterday, and put off here 35 peckages. She had 500 tons and a good list or people for the Ohio river. THE JOHN MEANS, from the Ohio, with two barges in tow, arrived yesterday and dis-charged here a good lot of freight. THE MARY AMENT, from Johnson's, came in yesterday with 38 bales of cotton, 41 sacks of seed, and sundries.

THE A. J. WHITE, from Napoleon, came n yesterday morning, with 141 bales of cotton, St sacks seed, a lot of sundries, and a good of tin.

DEPARTURES. The departures yesterday were the Glencoe, for New Orleans; Phil Allin, for Friam Point; Charles Morgan, for Cincinnati; G. W. Cheek and Mary Ament, for Osceola; and John F. Tolle, for Usiro.
